

HAPPY INDEPENDENCE DAY

15 August 1947 is an important day for all Indians. It is celebrate as a national holiday by the people of India to commemorate independence from Great Britain. On this day, people of India pay healthily tribeute to the great leaders because of whom India became free forever. Our leaders like Gandhiji, Jawaharlal Nehru, Bhagat Singh and many sacrificed their lives to let people enjoy being independent in our nation. To commemorate this day, people watch patriotic movies, listen to music, in schools children participate in competitions and contests; and go to view various live performance about the meaning of the day. Jawaharlal Nehru turned into our first Prime Minister after the Freedom of India on seventeenth of August 1947 who raised the Flag at lahore Gate of Red Fort in Delhi and given a speech. This marvel is traited by the other resulting Prime Ministers of India. Where banner lifting functions, marches, parade, salute 21 guns and other cultural events are organised. Other individuals commend this day by raising the national banner on their garments, homes or vehicles. On the 12 PM of fifteenth August in 1947, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru had declared the freedom of India by perusing out his speech on "Trust with density". He said that after long years of slavery it is the time to take a pledge and let our country succeed. India is where a large number of Individuals live together whether they have a place with different religion, societies or traditions and commend this special event with great joy. At this day, similar to an Indian, we should feel pleased and should make a vow to keep ourselves steadfast and energetic to save our motherland.
